Frequently Asked Questions

How do you know if my child needs extra help ?

What should I do if I think my child has Special Educational Needs?

Woolston Infant School is committed to early identification of Special Educational Needs. It is decided on an individual basis based on a range of evidence gathered through our usual monitoring processes and from evidence of other agencies. If this suggests that your child is not making progress it may be that your child needs some additional and/ or different provision beyond the classroom adaptations. This is reviewed regularly and if you have concerns you can speak to your child's class teacher or contact the SENCO. We will always ensure that you know of our concerns and are part of this assessment process with us. If you are concerned about your child's learning and feel they may have a special educational need/disability, we would encourage you to speak to your child's class teacher or SENCO.

How will the school staff support my child?

All staff are trained to work with children with Special Educational Needs. Lessons are adapted to meet the needs of all learners. If your child has an Individual Education Plan this will be overseen by the class teacher in conjunction with the SENCO. Depending on the intervention required, some children will work in a small group for additional support, some children will have individual intervention programmes. Some pupils require the support of a Learning Support Assistant or Emotional Learning Support Assistant to ensure that your child is included in the school community. It may be appropriate for your child to have some individualised support. As a school, we follow a simple cycle to assess, plan, do and review when monitoring the impact of the things we have put in place for your child. This means that with everything we do to support your child we will check regularly whether it is working and then plan future actions on what we find.

How will the Curriculum be matched to my child's needs?

All children are included in the curriculum. All teachers plan their lessons and adapt them to ensure all children access the learning and make progress. If your child has more complex needs they may need a highly personalised curriculum.

Planning and provision is monitored by the Senior leadership Team. Sometimes teachers will alter their learning environment to make sure your child can access learning fully.

How will I know how my child is doing and how will you help me to support my child's learning?

Woolston Infant School recognises the importance of working together with parents. There are parent evenings each term when parents can discuss their child's progress and future targets. A short report is sent home in the autumn term, including targets, a more in depth report in the spring term and a summary in the summer term. If your child has an IEP you will also have an opportunity to discuss their targets.

Your child's class teacher will also be happy to meet with you at any mutually convenient time.

If your child has an Education Health & Care Plan an annual review is held with all agencies in accordance with the guidance in the Code of practice. Sometimes there may be things we can do at home and in school to support your child. Wherever possible, we want to work with you so home and school can give the same learning messages for your child.

What support will there be for my child's overall wellbeing?

The school employs an ELSA (Emotional Literacy Support Assistant) who can provide pastoral and social support.

The school has good links with health through the School Nurse

The school works in partnership with the Education Welfare Officer and can support families with attendance and punctuality

The school has other partners in Children's Services who can support the whole family and signpost any other support services a family may need.

The school has a mental health lead who can support pupils and refer them to the Mental Health Support Team. All children have a trusted adult within the school they can speak to. This will often be their class teacher or a teaching assistant.

What specialist services and expertise are available at, or accessed by the school?

We have strong links with a range of professionals to support children with a range of needs and to support staff, including

- Educational Psychology
- Occupational Therapy
- Speech & Language Therapy
- Physiotherapy

We have a SALTA (Speech and Language Teaching Assistant) who works solely at our school. We also have regular support from a SALSA (Speech and Language Support Assistant) and NHS speech therapists.

What training is provided for staff supporting children with Special Educational Needs?

All staff receive regular updates, support and advice from our SENCO to ensure they are aware of current Special Educational Needs.

They have regular training to ensure that they are up to date with current thinking and guidance.

The school also receives training from professionals with expertise in special educational needs. Staff also receive training from staff working in special education.

If a child requires Occupational Therapy, Speech Therapy, or Physiotherapy training will be provided to staff working with your child.

Our School Nurse also provides staff training on asthma, choking, epi-pens and other medical needs as appropriate.

When training is needed, we will provide this where necessary.

How are the school's resources allocated and matched to children's special educational needs?

We allocate support and resources according to need. Additional interventions are funded to support children's progress. If your children has an Education Health & Care Plan we ensure that the provision specified in part 3 is provided.

We make every effort to include all pupils on school trips. Trips are planned with all individual needs catered for.

All children are involved in PE lessons and where necessary children with physical SEND can take part through adaptations.

Some pupils require the NHS ABC programme to improve their core strength and gross motor skills. These children attend daily sessions with an experienced member of staff.

How accessible is your school?

Woolston Infant School is an open plan building all on ground level. All doors are accessible for wheelchair access. Although there are steps at the rear of the school the playground is accessible from 2 other entrances. The school has a disabled toilet facility

If you are considering Woolston Infant School for your child an assessment may need to be made to ensure that it is accessible and safe for your child.

How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom, including school trips?

We make every effort to include all pupils in our activities. We may need to make some adaptations to include your child and you may be asked to accompany your child. An individual risk assessment may be required.

If your child has significant and complex needs they may need additional support to attend an after school club. Please discuss this with the school first.

How do we make sure your child is involved in their education?

At Woolston Infant School, we work hard to make sure all children understand what they need to do to make progress in their learning. With SEND children, it is particularly important that the targets we set for them are appropriate, ambitious and we aim to make them actively involved with how they might achieve these targets. For instance, a child with a Individual Behaviour Plan (IBP) might be involved in designing a chart to track their positive behaviour. Each SEND pupil has an Individual Education Plan (IEP) where we capture their voice and opinions.

How will the school prepare and support my child to join the school and then transfer to a new school?

The school holds an Open Evening for perspective parents in the Autumn term. There will be an opportunity for you to see the school and talk to members of staff, asking any questions you may have. As part of the preparations for all children joining Year R classes there are 2 visits with parents and a class visit. Woolston Infant School staff visit and liaise closely with pre-school settings to ensure that there is a smooth transition and that the school is aware of your child's needs. The school provides written information in it's prospectus and 'Starting School Brochure'. Further information can be accessed from our website, www.woolstoninfantschool.co.uk

Prior to starting school there is a home visit with your child's classteacher and Learning Support Assistant. Each years as your child moves to a new class there are frequent opportunities for visits to their new class and an information booklet for parents. When children transfer to Junior School the school liaises with the next school about each child's individual needs and a suitable transition programme is put in place. Additional transition visits can be put in place if needed. Extra transition visits and programmes are arranged as necessary.

What should I do if I have a concern about the Schools Special Educational Needs provision?

In the first instance please contact The SENCO or the Headteacher. For details please contact the school office.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children.

They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions
- Provision of education and associated services
