Headteacher's Message

This half term, our assembly focus has been on 'Tolerance.' With a school community made up of many different nationalities and languages, it is important that our children are tolerant of one another.

It was great to see so many parents come to watch a year 2 lesson last, hopefully you were impressed with what they could do! Over the next week and half until half term, there are several parent events, hopefully we will see lots of faces to celebrate what the children have been achieving in school.

Next week is Safer Internet Day. Over the course of the week there will be lots of activities to remind our pupils how to be safe while using a device.

Remember, all your child's progress can only be achieved with them being in school every day. Thankyou to you all for making this happen.
